Famed All-Girl Glee Club Will Sing On College Theatre Stage, May 19

A concert of sacred, classical and popular music will be presented by the All-Girl Glee Club of St. Mark's School, Cincinnati, Ohio, in the College Theatre, Saturday evening, May 19, at 8:00 o'clock.

Composed of selected voices of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls of St. Mark's, the choral group was organized four years ago as an extra-curricular activity of the school by Mr. Cletus Mecklenborg, its director. Already the girls have achieved city-wide acclaim, and have made numerous appearances on both radio and television, and before civic groups and clubs.

Form Huge Tree

Their most renowned program is the annual presentation of a "Living Christmas Tree," with the girls grouped on tiers forming a huge tree over 22 feet high. Each year also they compete with high school and college groups in the rendition of Christmas carols at the famed outdoor Christmas Crib in Cincinnati's Lytle Park.

The Glee Club is known in the Cincinnati area not only for its choral arrangements, but operetta, concerts and variety shows are all within its experience.

The director of the group, Mr. Cletus Mecklenborg, is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and is director of music at Regina High School, Norwood, Ohio, and organist and director of music at St. Mark's, Cincinnati.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Duff on the birth of their daughter. Mr. Duff is Instructor in Accounting here.

Bob Doran's Music Makers To Play for Three-Hour Dance

This Friday, May 11, the festivities of the Junior Prom week end begin in earnest. The much-awaited "senior send-off" will be inaugurated with a combination marshmallow roast, fireside dance, and hayride Friday night, followed by campus tours and the baseball game with Ball State, Saturday afternoon, and the "Velvet Evening" Prom, Saturday evening. All the activities prior to the Prom are being offered to the Prom-goers gratis, as a good-will gesture of the Junior Class.

Newman School of Catholic Thought Here in August

A new development in the training of youth for Catholic activity will be undertaken on this campus this summer, with the Newman Summer School of Catholic Thought, a one-week course, Aug. 5-12, and open to student members of the Newman Clubs in our secular universities throughout the nation. Its aim will be to give these students a period of intensified study in Catholic leadership, as well as a greater acquaintance with Catholic education on the college level.

Sponsored by the Ohio Valley Province of the Newman Club Federation, in conjunction with St. Joseph's, the school is expected to accommodate between 150 and 200 students.

Guest Instructors

Guest teachers will include the Rev. Edward Duncan, National Chaplain of Newman Clubs in this country; the Rev. Jerome MacEachen, Newman Club Chaplain at Michigan State University, and Assistant Director of Education for the Lansing diocese; and the Rev. James McGuire, C.S.P., Newman Club Chaplain at Wayne University, Detroit, working with Fathers Maziarz, Gross, and Scheuer, of St. Joseph's faculty.

In addition to the immediate objective of building better Catholic leaders among our youth, it is also hoped that the school may provide a blueprint for an enlargement of this work in the future. If the initial effort proves successful, plans are envisioned for several schools of this type given throughout the country in the summer of 1952. It is further hoped that this gathering will be a means of achieving greater solidarity between the Newman Clubs and the NFCCS.

Three-fold Schedule

A three-part schedule will include Study, Social, and Liturgical programs. Within the Study program will be four areas of concentration: Christian Apologetics, Catholic Literature, Church History, and the Family. There will be one lecture in each of these fields each day. Panel Sessions will also be included.

The Liturgical program will include a Community Mass each morning, as well as daily recitation of parts of the Divine Office, tentatively Vespers and Compline.

The Social program will see some type of group recreational activities every night of the school's operation.

A reporter and photographer from the Chicago Tribune will be on hand from Friday evening through Sunday, to afford full coverage for its Sunday feature, "Youth on the Campus." Collegevilleites and their dates will be photographed in all their glory during the week end, the pictures being used to supplement the story of the week end itself.

Friday Evening Events

The marshmallow roast is scheduled to begin at approximately 8:00 p.m., and as many as possible are asked to be in attendance at this time. Following the marshmallow roast, which will be conducted at the outdoor fire-place of the Rec Hall, weather permitting, two large hayracks will be put into operation to give Collegeville's visitors a chance to view the surrounding countryside at night. Upon the return from the hayride, an informal dance will be held in the Rec Hall to round out the evening's activities.

Saturday will be free of scheduled activities, with the exception of the baseball game, until 9:00 p.m., when Bob Doran and his orchestra will strike up the first velvet tones in the "Skyloft Room." Dancing will continue throughout the "Velvet Evening" until 12:00 p.m. when the formal entertainment of the week end will come to a close.

Gay Time Assured

According to Prom Chairman Frank Pavalko, the "Skyloft Room," nearing completion as we go to press, is planned to guarantee a pleasant evening to even the most disgruntled veteran. Wall decorations of soft blue and white streamers, enveloping the entire area, reach up to meet a galaxy of stars, which form a sparkling overhead setting for the beautifully flowing pond in the center of the dance floor.

Prom-goers will be met at the door by the Head Doorman, who will conduct them through a specially constructed tunnel of red clouds, leading on to the main dance floor. Bordering the dancing area will be the reserved tables for refreshments. These tables will be laid with linen table cloths, candle-lamps, and special favors. Waiters will be available to serve the soft drinks.

Those planning to attend the Prom are asked to pick up the bids, if at all possible, before the night of the dance. These may still be obtained in front of the cafeteria.

Comprehensive Tests Here, Next Week

The Dean of the College has announced that the Senior Class will take comprehensive examinations in their major field, Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19.

Taking approximately six hours of working time, the examinations will be in written form.

Circulation and Truth

Just a few weeks ago, the American Newspaper Publishers Association had their 65th annual convention. A prominent member, Edwin S. Friendly, vice president of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, arose to speak. Said he: "The difficulty of publishing a newspaper has never been greater—we are confronted constantly with the puzzle of how to make our income equal our expense."

A real problem? Yes, and a serious one.

Naturally, the papers must now strive for greater circulation and more advertising than ever before. But will they seek to accomplish this through a greater adherence to the rules of impartiality, objectivity, and TRUTH?

Experience does not bear this out.

We rather suspect that this new crisis will be met by shaking more hands and patting more backs than the papers are wont to do even at present. Editorial policies which have tended to abet this dubious purpose in the past will certainly not be diminished; in many cases they will undoubtedly be stepped up.

Under this category we might include such policies as those which seek to soft-pedal the sabotaging of Fair Employment legislation by so many state and national legislators; or those which consistently exaggerate the failings of organized Labor, to the complete neglect of sins of equal magnitude on the part of industry; or such sins of omission as the neglecting of reports of Federal Food and Drug Law prosecutions; or, perhaps, those policies which seek to soothe the tender sensibilities of real estate blocs by condoning through silence the action of legislators who obstruct the fight for decent housing for the poor.

The newspapers are desperate. Their publishing difficulty "has never been greater," and in view of this, have we any reason to hope that the galloping demagoguery of the Hearsts, McCormicks, and even many of the more conservatives, will diminish in the slightest? We hardly think so. The old adage goes: "Believe half of what you see, a quarter of what you read, and none of what you hear," and in these days, we definitely suspect that those percentages err toward the conservative.—T.J.S.

True Knowledge

Listening to a discussion some short time ago in the "interest shown in religion," speakers in many walks of life pointed out the utter coldness toward God and His commandments. The talk that made the greatest impression on the audience was given by a student. He joined his remarks with the oft-repeated saying, "To know God is to love Him, and to love God is to serve Him."

"We cannot love and serve someone we do not know," he pointed out. "The time and energy the student gives to his studies, the long hours he willingly sacrifices to research! He is convinced that for the future and his success, he must sweat blood day after day. He has his future in view."

"What is true in every other subject is also true in matters of religion. Can you imagine students of today, all over the world, getting to know their religion better, getting interested in the one thing that matters! They will find time to read, become interested and wish to read more and learn more."

"This appreciation will grow with knowledge, and loyalty will burn in their hearts. They will become enthusiastic and live the life of a Christian in the world. This knowledge will bring love and such satisfaction as the loyal soldier feels in doing his duty in the service. There will end the low interest and disgust for something they do not know."

The only salvation of this world is God and His principles. He must be our Leader, not selfishness, not power politics.

May and Mary

May is the month of the living. It is the month of the year when nature stirs herself and begins to show signs of life after the deadening winter. Yes, May is the month of the living, not mind you, of life in full splendor, but of life just awakening. It is the month when the mystery of life begins to unfold all over again.

And we link May with Mary, our Mother. The names just seem to go together, and rightly so. For once long ago, God sent an Angel to earth; and as that Angel returned to Him, life's Author stirred and took flesh. The world shook off the deadening shackles of sin; Nature throbbed with newer zest; and Mary was the Mother of Life.

We call May, Mary's month. For we thereby consecrate to the mother of Life the stirring strings of Nature, as she rouses herself, newborn from the deep sleep of winter when all is dead. We dedicate this month of May which sends new life rushing through the veins of the whole world of nature to Mary, who is the world's loveliest Mother.

Lafayette Hears Local Professor

Marking the 60th anniversary of the papal encyclical "Rerum Novarum," and the 20th anniversary of Pope Pius XI's, "Quadragesimo Anno," Father Joseph Kenkel, professor of economics here, spoke before a large audience in the Knights of Columbus hall, Lafayette, Monday evening. His topic was, "The Message of the Social Encyclicals for Our Time."

In developing his theme, Father Kenkel said that there are certain basic social truths or principles without which no sound Christian economic order can develop; that there are definite objectives toward which an economic order must strive in the light of these principles. He laid emphasis on the program of economic or social reconstruction which the encyclicals advocate in the light of these principles and objectives, reviewed the progress made in this country in realizing this program, and made recommendations for further progress.

Former Staff Reporter Killed in Korean Action

A former STUFF reporter was killed in action in Korea on Apr. 20. Announcement of the death of Harold J. Rochon, of Muskegon, Mich., and a student here from Sept. 1949 to Nov. 1950, was made last Friday evening.

Rochon, who saw service in World War II, was recalled to the colors last fall, shortly after beginning his sophomore year here. He joined the STUFF staff in his freshman year, and was continuing his work in journalism and on the staff, when he was recalled to service.

The prayers of the students for the repose of Harry's soul are earnestly solicited.

Annual Parents' Day on Campus Features Exhibits, 'The Comedian'

The third annual Parents' Day on the campus was observed last Sunday and, in the opinion of many, it surpassed its predecessors in every detail. A High Mass, sung by Father Heckman with the College Choir adding solemnity with its rendition of a four-voiced Mass under Father Heiman's direction, inaugurated the day's festivities.

Campus tours, Science Exhibits, Stamp Exhibits, campus movie, band concert, and family-faculty visits made for a full day.

From 11:30 to 1:00 o'clock a turkey dinner was served in the college cafeteria. More than 750 persons passed through the cafeteria lines in the hour and a half period.

Beginning at 1:00 o'clock the Science Exhibits, sponsored by the Albertus Magnus Society, were open to the visitors. Lectures and demonstrations in the departments of chemistry, physics, geology and biology were conducted by the students, thus acquainting parents and friends of the progress made in the scientific fields at St. Joseph's.

Periodically during the afternoon the campus movie, "Freshman Focus," was shown in Science Hall, and at 3:30 o'clock a band concert, under the direction of Prof. Paul Tonner, was given from the band shell on the campus. During the intermission, the visitors were greeted by Father Zanolari, president of the college. At the conclusion of his brief address, he was presented with a check for $500 by Mrs. Tad O'Connell, president of St. Joseph's Mothers' Club of Chicago, for the establishment of a scholarship here.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the College Chapel and a Rosary procession to the Lourdes Grotto concluded the afternoon's program.

In the evening at 7:00 o'clock the visitors and campus residents saw the presentation of Henri Gheon's, The Comedian, by the Columbian Players, who gave a superb performance under the direction of Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli.

Between Halves

By FRANK GILLIGAN

The Puma baseball nine apparently ignoring all the hopes we painted for them in the last issue have gone down to four disastrous defeats. Topping off this 36 innings of misery was an embarrassing 29 to 5 romping by the Crusaders of Valpo. Basic cause for the poor showing thus far has been the pitching. Collegeville hurlers have allowed 67 runs in four encounters. Wildness and lack of control have accounted for more than half of the opponents runs. Coach Scharf has been working his moundsmen extra hard the past week, so maybe they will start finding the plate and bring home a few victories.

Thursday, May 3, saw the end of Spring football practice climaxed by the Upperclassmen's 25-6 triumph over a game bunch of freshmen. Ed Schultheis and Ernie Bidwell were the standouts for the victors. Schultheis snagging passes like a Don Hutson, and running like a halfback was all over the field on offense. Judging by his play of Thursday, Ed should have his finest year in the fall of '51. Bidwell, playing at the left-halfback slot, chopped off yardage at will and without a doubt was the fastest back on the field. Dan Newman, lanky Frosh end, looked very good offensively as he scored the lone yearling T.D. on a 30-yard pass play. Teamed up with Schultheis, Dan should give St. Joe a brilliant pass-catching duo, come next September. Coaches Fetter and Jones are to be commended on the football squad's showing. Their alertness of play and fine physical condition are the reward and product of good, sound coachings.

The tennis team finally pulled itself out of the doldrums of defeat with consecutive victories over Wabash and Valparaiso. Father Dreiling's links squad did likewise with a 16½-1½ trouncing of Taylor. Don Schubert had one of the finest scores of the year with a four over par 76. Don has shown much improvement this year due to hard work and concentration on the game.

In Intramural play, Danny Sullivan's 16-inch team was upset and put in a tie for first with the Lazy Nine. Overconfidence by Sullivan and his Black Sheep was the main cause for the defeat.

Switching over to the national scene:

One of the saddest sights in sports—watching a 37-year-old Joe Louis attempting to recapture his great form of ten years ago. A great champion who will probably wind up a punch-drunk bum. A fellow who did so much to build up boxing seems to be just as successful now in tearing it down. The American people can save Joe Louis by refusing to attend his fights. Money is the law in the fight promotion racket.

Grunt and Groaners: This evening in Rensselaer, the fair art of wrestling will be displayed in the High School Gym with such famed actors as "Rudy Kay" and "The Thing" going through their routines. Prices are a little steep: two bucks for bleachers and three bucks for reserved seats. If you want to see the ridiculous in a so-called sport, attend tonight at the high school.

The new college-side bowling alley is nearly completed. It has ten beautiful lanes with semi-automatic pin-setters. Mr. Rowen has plans for opening sometime this month. It is a welcome addition to Collegeville.

★ INTRAMURALS ★

Close games seemed to be the dominant feature of the intramurals the last two weeks, with a number of contests determined by the margin of one or two runs.

In the 12-inch league, Friday, Apr. 20, the Clovers took a close one 14-13 from the Herd O' Turtles. The game was climaxed in the last of the seventh and final inning on Bob O'Connor's homerun with one man on for the Clovers. Bernie Kane's timely hitting had marked the earlier innings of the event.

On Monday, Apr. 23, the Nifty-Nine defeated Al's Boys 9-5. Paul Steigmeyer was removed from the mound in this contest, because of wildness, in favor of Frank Schroeder, who carried on creditably but was unable to pull the game out of the fire for his team.

An April 26, Joe's Boys handed the Herd O' Turtles their second loss in a slugging affair, 16-12.

The following day perhaps the most exciting game of the week was played. Al's Boys were battling in the last half of the seventh against the Black Sox, trailing by one run, with the bases loaded, two out, and a 3-2 count on the batter, when Phil Kauchak flied out to end the game. Final score: Black Sox 15, Al's Boys 14.

The Nifty-Nine defeated the Clovers in another hard-fought close contest, 17-16, on Apr. 30.

On Tuesday, May 1, the Pinheads suffered their first loss of the season to Al's Boys, 15-8.

The following day Joe's Boys knocked off the Nifty-Nine, 10-7.

On May 4th, the Black Sox beat the Clovers, 9-6, in a game, called after four innings because of rain.

At the same time in the 16-inch league some good ball games were being played.

The Dirty Sox won a nip and tuck battle from the Jabbers by a score of 10-9 on Monday, Apr. 23.

Purdue Takes SJ for Ride

The St. Joe Pumas, after holding Purdue to a 7-2 margin for six innings fell apart in the seventh frame and went on to take a 17-2 shellacking from the Boiler-makers on the Puma field, Apr. 25. The pitching was the main reason for the collapse, with an assortment of walks and wild pitches playing a major role in the big inning.

Chuck Kahle started on the mound for the Pumas and was treated mildly enough the first two innings. But Purdue got to him in the third for four runs, and he was replaced by Chuck McDermott at the start of the fourth. Mac pitched good ball for three innings, holding Purdue to only one run. Then came the seventh and the roof fell in. Chuck's wildness got him in trouble and this was the start of the six-run blast. Highlight of the inning was a three-run homer by Norm Banas. Purdue finished up with a pair of runs in each of the eighth and ninth innings off Cotter Tharin.

The Pumas scored their two runs in the third inning after two were gone. Kahle was hit by a pitched ball. Bob Gallagher, running for him, scored on John Barrientos' ground-rule double into the bushes in right center. Barry then scored on Keller Riede's single.

Southern Road Trip Disastrous to Pumas

The St. Joe baseball squad continued their losing way, last week end, dropping three games in two days at Indiana State and Evansville. State defeated the Pumas, 3-2, last Friday afternoon, and the Evansville Aces swept both games of a double-header, 13-2 and 9-8, the next day.

The Pumas lost a heart-breaker to Indiana State as Joe Pindell pitched a superb three-hit game, but his efforts were nullified by the faulty fielding of his teammates.

Pindell was working with a 2-1 lead, when State scored the tying and winning runs in the seventh inning without getting a hit. Henriott walked, and Craig was safe on a fielder's choice. Henriott reached second safely, when the Pumas missed the forceout at second. Rhodes was safe on an error, and Henriott scored on the misplay. A walk and a fielder's choice moved Rhodes to third. He scored on another Puma error.

Evansville Takes Two

Evansville's Aces had no trouble solving Puma pitching in the first game of a double-header, last Saturday, as they counted seven runs in the second inning to take an easy 13-2 verdict. Pitcher Vogel held Puma batsmen to a feeble five hits.

The Scharfmen had on their fitting clothes in the second game, as they collected 12 safeties, but once again miscues in the field threw the game away.

Leading 8-6 going into the seventh and final inning of the game, the Pumas blew up as the Aces scored three runs on two hits, a walk, an error and a wild pitch.

Barrientos was the hitting star for the St. Joe nine, with three hits in four times at bat. Mackin and Riede each collected two hits for the tough luck Pumas.

Intra-Squad Tilt Goes to Veterans

Th Puma upperclassmen, led by the aerial combination of Paonessa to Schultheis and the fine running of Ernie Bidwell, overwhelmed the Frosh squad, 25-6, last Thursday morning in the annual intra-squad football clash.

A pass interference infringement on the opening play of the game put the Puma veterans on the Frosh 30-yard line. With Bidwell and Hummel carrying the brunt of the attack, the upperclassmen moved to the five-yard stripe. The hard-running Hummel then bulled his way off-tackle for the first score. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

After a sustained drive late in the first quarter, Tom Paonessa went around end on a bootleg play to make the score 12-0.

In the second quarter the upperclassmen moved 60 yards on two plays, when Paonessa passed to Swanson for 20 yards, and then threw a 40-yard bull's-eye to Schultheis for a touchdown. Ferguson booted the extra point to up the score 19-0.

The upperclassmen completed their scoring in the third period, when Schultheis caught a 15-yard Paonessa pass on the ten and scooted over untouched for the final tally. The try for the extra point was wide, and the score stood at 25-0.

Late in the third quarter the Frosh finally hit paydirt on a 30-yard pass from Zimmer to Newman. The attempted extra point went below the uprights.

Thereafter the action slowed down, with most of the plays kept around the midfield stripe. Neither team scored in the fourth quarter and the game ended 25-6.

Statistics show the superiority of the victors as they chalked up nine first downs to three for the Frosh. The Frosh tried eight passes and completed four, while the upperclassmen connected for two out of four aerials.

C.P.A. Speaker At Annual Dinner

Mr. Bernard Trout, C.P.A., of Chicago, was the featured speaker at the Commerce Club dinner, held in the college cafeteria, Wednesday evening, Apr. 25.

Citing a few examples of modern commercial practice which he encounters daily in the scope of his work, Mr. Trout surveyed the business world from the viewpoint of a tax accountant, and interpreted government control and taxing of corporations and other present-day enterprises.

Business Virtues Cited

Mr. Trout stressed the importance of a young man choosing the right firm and doing the type of work for which he is best suited. In pointing out the qualities of a real business man, he emphasized honesty, aggressiveness, initiative, sincerity and a true sense of values. In passing, the speaker referred to the deep debt of gratitude Catholic college men owe to the priests, nuns, and lay instructors who have made their education possible, and to the increasing need of Catholic grade schools to handle the increased enrollments. This need, he said, is evidenced by the fact that there are 78% more pupils in the third grade than in the seventh grade today.

A gathering of almost 100, including several of the lifetime members of Rensselaer, attended the dinner. John Metzner and Ron Hospodka were co-chairmen.

High School Boys Enjoy Retreat Here

Unanimous approval was accorded the retreat which was conducted on the campus the week end of April 27-29, by the 36 third and fourth-year high school youths of the Lafayette diocese who participated.

In answer to questions, all the boys agreed that they had profited from the retreat, that they would make another, if given the opportunity, and that St. Joseph's should schedule other retreats in the future.

Phases of the retreat which appealed to the boys most were the conferences, preached by Father Baird, director of the retreat, and Father Kilian Dreiling, rector of Xavier Hall, the Question Box period, conducted by Father Baird, and the Rosary procession to the Grotto.

The retreatants were housed in the Administration Building during their three-day stay on the campus.

Organization Picnics

Picnics for members of the Father Falter Post and of the Monogram Club were held at Shafer Lake, Monticello, last Thursday, May 3. Immediately after High Mass, cars conveyed the members of the two groups to the lake, where they enjoyed a day of swimming, boating, softball, horse-shoes, and other games.

Tragedy almost overtook two members of the Monogram Club, when their boat capsized and sank. Quick thinking and action on the part of three witnesses to the accident saved the two from drowning.

Picnics for several other campus groups will be held on Decoration Day, May 30.

Suggestions for Prom-Goers

1. Dress appropriately but somewhat more decorously than usual for the activities on Friday evening. That is, give a presentable appearance for the pictures which will be taken that evening.
2. For the Prom:
 - a) Tuxes, of course, either winter or summer, will be the accepted dress for Saturday evening.
 - b) Left lapel button-hole is for the boutonniere.
 - c) Drive cars right to special parking space near south door of the field house. From parking space, go to southwest door, through which you will be escorted to the dance floor itself.
 - d) Be extremely careful of the candle-lamps on the tables. In case of any difficulty with them, there will be special "fire-watchers" nearby, whom you can notify.
 - e) By all means, use the ash trays provided for each table. DON'T throw cigarette butts or ashes on the floor!
 - f) A sufficient number of waiters will be available. Allow them to handle any arrangements necessary for soft drinks, or other services.
3. The chaperones and guests of honor will be at the dance the entire evening. It will be a mark of courtesy to them, both in line with their office and as friends, to introduce them to your date.
4. Etiquette, demands that your date should have at least the first and last dances with you.
5. In case of fire, small as the likelihood may be, don't run. Walk!

Fr. Gordon Award Goes to Korba

At the annual Commerce Club dinner, held Apr. 25, Charles Korba, club president, was awarded the Father Gordon Memorial Award for scholarship and participation in campus activities outside the club. The award is a beautiful plaque, commemorating the late Father Albert Gordon, founder of the Commerce Club at St. Joseph's. Mr. George Strong, moderator of the club, presented the plaque on behalf of the entire membership who chose Korba for the award in secret ballot.

In accepting the plaque, Korba thanked the club for the expression of esteem and voiced the hope that the award would be continued in future years.

Following a brief review of the year's activities, Bill Novak, who served as toastmaster introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Bernard Trout, of Chicago.

The dinner brought to a close the club's activities for the current year.

SJC Glee Club In Last Program

St. Joseph's Glee Club, paying its return compliments to the College of St. Francis, Joliet, journeyed to that city, Sunday, Apr. 29, to present the annual Spring Concert that was so well received here nine days earlier. Joining with the Glee Club of St. Francis, the Puma singers presented a program ranging from folk songs to light classics before an enthusiastic audience.

The next appearance of the local group will be at the marsh-mallow roast, the evening before the Prom, when several selections will be sung. This program will, in all probability, mark the end of scheduled performances of the club for this year, which have included engagements in Chicago, Joliet, Rensselaer, and Fair Oaks, as well as several appearances on the Collegeville stage.

According to Father Lawrence Heiman, director, two engagements are still possibilities: a program over a Chicago FM station and an appearance at Remington.

Valpo Crusaders Trounce Pumas

The Puma baseball nine handed a riotous 29-5 victory to Valpo's Crusaders on the local diamond, Wednesday, Apr. 25.

The visitors lost no time in starting the scoring parade, as they scored two runs in the opening frame on Nelson's single, Meier's triple, and Puscheck's squeeze bunt.

After a scoreless second inning, Valpo resumed its assault in the third, when Nelson singled, Meier and Puscheck walked, and Schroer hit a grand slam homer, to make the score 6-0.

Pumas Score

The Pumas tallied in the bottom half of the third on Reutebuch's double and two infield outs, but the Crusaders came right back in the first half of the fourth frame with two home runs and a walk, sending them into a safe lead, 9-1.

The downtrodden Pumas came to life in the last half of the fourth, when Cahill singled and moved to second on an overthrow to first. Malone brought him home with a double, and made the trip himself on Gorman's single. This brought the score to a more respectable 9-3 count.

Valpo Scores Nine

St. Joe did everything wrong in the top of the fifth, as the Crusaders batted all the way around, scoring nine runs and running the score to football proportions, 18-3. Puma pitchers lost all sight of the plate in the top half of the sixth as they issued six walks to set up five more runs for the busy base-running Crusaders.

Collegeville fans finally got a chance to cheer in the eighth, when Barrientos smacked a towering homer into center field, making the score 23-4.

Valpo, evidently looking for more base-running practise, chalked up six more runs in the ninth to end their scoring for the afternoon at the 29 mark. The Pumas scored a single tally in the last of the ninth to end an uncomfortable afternoon.
